Instructor's Profile

Stephen Smith

is a 2003 graduate of the UAA MPA program and 1998 graduate of the University of Louisville's Southern Police Institute, Administrative Officers Course. He currently serves as the Deputy Chief of Administration for the Anchorage Police Department. Mr. Smith established the core values and ethics program for his department in 1996, and has remained actively engaged in the subject ever since. He is affiliated with the National Institute of Ethics and International Association of Ethics Trainers. Mr. Smith previously served as a Special Assistant to the Commissioner of the Alaska Department of Corrections, where he was the certification manager of their department integrity certification program through the National Institute of Ethics.

Class Description

At the end of the course students will have an understanding of:

- Basic ethical concepts, decision-making models, and relevant notions such as conflicts of interest;
- The various watchdog groups of government, the source of their legitimacy and how to work with them;
- How to keep government agencies accountable;
- How to analyze their own ethical standards.
